THE DEMOCRAT AND THE PEOPLE.

Our carriers note an increase for the week ending May 2d of TWO HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-EIGHT additional subscribers. This makes a total increase in six weeks of two thousand, two hundred and eighty-seven.

This is unparalleled in the history of Louisville journalism. It only shows that the Democrat, in its new and cheap form, meets with general acceptation.

Indeed, we see no good reason why it may not go on to increase in the same ratio for many months to come.

Congress Yesterday.

SENATE.

The time of this body was consumed in listening to the speech of Hon. John A. Bingham, on the part of the managers of the impeachment trial.

HOUSE.

Hon. M. C. Kerr, of Indiana, introduced a resolution with reference to changes in the pension law.

Mr. Brooks, of New York, desired that the committee appointed to investigate Butler's gold speculations should also make a thorough sifting of the whole conduct of the military at New Orleans under Butler's mal-administration, especially his connection with trade upon lakes Borgne and Ponchartrain, with his brother A. J. Butler.

Mr. Beck, of this State, asked the Chair whether, if the resolution should be adopted relative to the misappropriation of gold, it would be competent to inquire into the misappropriation of specie and other plate, provided the material be silver. The Speaker replied that the inquiry was not parliamentary.

The Speaker announced the select committee to investigate Mr. Washburne's charge against Mr. Donnelly, as Messrs. Banks, Thomas, of Maryland; Poland, Griswold, Blair, of Michigan; Woodward and Beck.

Mr. Dawes, at the request of Mr. Butler, offered a resolution that the committee also inquire into the allegations of Mr. Brooks, on Friday, in relation to Mr. Butler.

Kentucky Insurance Company Reorganized—A New Board of Directors and New Officers.

This company was on yesterday reorganized by the election, unanimously, of V. P. Armstrong, President, B. F. Scally, Vice President, Fred. Huber, Secretary pro tem., and J. W. Batchelor, Treasurer.

Mr. Vanwinkle, the former President, declined to act any further in that capacity, as his professional engagements precluded his presence here, except occasionally. Mr. Leswick, the Secretary, whose marvelous energy built up the company to its present proportions, tendered his resignation before any election. A vote of thanks was unanimously tendered to these gentlemen.

The members of the Board of Directors, who were present, were as follows: V. P. Armstrong, Robert Floyd, Lem. Hyatt, B. F. Scally, E. L. Huffman, J. W. Batchelor, J. C. McFerran, John M. Harlan.

We learn that these gentlemen propose to ascertain the exact status of this company, and, with that end in view, a committee, composed of J. C. McFerran, B. F. Scally and John M. Harlan, were appointed, who, in connection with Secretary Huber, are directed to make an immediate examination of the records, books and papers of the company, and report to an adjourned meeting of the directors all the facts necessary to enable them to understand its precise condition.

Bishop Weightman To-night.

Our citizens will have an opportunity this evening of hearing one of the most learned and eloquent divines of the Methodist Church. Bishop Wm. M. Weightman, D. D., of Charleston, S. C., will preach at 8 o'clock in the Chestnut-street church, between Eighth and Ninth. Very few preachers possess his vast powers and rare eloquence.

To-morrow the board of bishops convenes in this city. It will be composed of the following distinguished gentlemen: Bishop J. O. Andrew, of Alabama; Bishop John Early, of Virginia; Bishop Weightman, of South Carolina; Bishop Pierce, of Georgia; Bishop Payne, of Mississippi; Bishop Marvin, of Missouri; Bishop McTyeire, of Tennessee, and Bishop Kavanaugh, of Kentucky.

Never since the famous convention of 1845, that led to the formation of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, has Louisville been honored by so many magnates of the theological world.

Weather Bulletin Yesterday.

PITTSBURG—Warm and showery. River receding slowly, with eight feet in the channel, and business on the levee brisk.

EVANSVILLE—Very warm, with indications of rain. River rising.

MEMPHIS—Excessively warm and cloudy. River falling.

NASHVILLE—Warm. River falling fast.

CINCINNATI—Warm and rainy. River rising slowly, with 21½ feet in channel and 7½ under the bridge.

ST. LOUIS—Very warm. Mercury rose to 88. River rising.

LOUISVILLE—Remarkably heavy rains during the afternoon and night, accompanied by a violent hail storm. At 3 o'clock this morning cloudy, with indications of more rain.

Max Strakosch.

MAX STRAKOSCH, the accomplished and successful impressario, now conducting on a triumphal tour through the United States, the La Grange and Bragnoli troupe, reached the city last evening and is stopping at the Louisville Hotel. Time has dealt very gently with the gentleman. He retains all the vivacity of his youth, and we pray that he may long live to furnish the people with the soul of music.

The concerts at Weisiger Hall to-morrow and Friday evenings promises to be the most brilliant that Louisville has witnessed for many years. A very large number of reserved seats have already been taken, and the sale will be continued at D. P. Fauld's music store.

BANKRUPT COURT AT SHELBYVILLE—IMPORTANT NOTICE.—Col. James M. Fidler will hold a court in bankruptcy at Shelbyville, Tuesday, May 12th, for one day only. As this will be the only court held in Shelbyville before the 1st of June next, if not the last court held there, it would be well for those who desire to avail themselves of the benefit of the bankrupt law to be in attendance then.

Impeachment and President Making.

Mr. Bingham continued his speech yesterday in prosecution of the President. He will conclude to-day, and then ——!

The New York Herald's dispatch states that Senator Fessenden has prepared an opinion that there are no grounds shown in the evidence or argument justifying the conviction of the President. Mr. Morrill offered Mr. Fessenden an adverse opinion, but failed to convince Fessenden. Several other Republican Senators are reported to have followed Fessenden's example.

It is now stated that a new party, headed by Chase for the Presidency, against Gen. Grant, is to be immediately formed by Fessenden, Henderson, Trumbull and other moderate Republicans.

Farmers' Bank of Kentucky.

A very large meeting of the stockholders of this institution was held in Frankfort, at the office of the parent bank, on Monday, and a radical change made in the directors. The cause is said to be certain losses during the past year. The following gentlemen comprise the new directory: Thos. N. Lindsey, Thomas Farmer, G. W. Craddock, A. J. James, Alvin Duvall, S. B. Churchill and W. H. Averill.

It is understood that Thos. N. Lindsey, Esq., of Frankfort, will be chosen President, and Grant Green, Esq., of Henderson, cashier.

Madison County.

An attentive correspondent in Richmond writes us that at the annual meeting of the Madison county Joint Stock, Mechanical and Agricultural Association, held Monday, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Maj. John D. Harris.
Vice Presidents—C. S. Turner, Jas. A. Moran, Joel W. Embry.
Directors—Ab. Shearrar, John Payton, E. H. Field, J. P. Estell, C. Burgin, David W. Irvin, Charley K. Oldham, Newland Jones.
Treasurer—Maj. Wm. M. Irvin.
Secretary—R. G. Burton.

Public Debt Statement.

The following is the statement made yesterday by the controller of the finances, and received by telegraph:

Debt bearing coin interest, $1,861,378,201 80; debt bearing currency interest, $2,593,730,230; matured debt unpresented for payment, $7,315,283 54; debt bearing no interest, $407,353,110 90; total debt, $2,638,046,622 38; amount in the Treasury in coin, $106,307,558; currency, $72,174,136 82; during the month the debt decreased, $2,106,710, and the balance in the Treasury increased, $16,574,149, making a decrease on the public debt of $18,680,859 80.

Advertising Pressure.

The Democrat publishes this morning over six columns of new advertisements. While this is exceedingly gratifying to us, as indicative of the continually increasing prosperity of our paper, we regret that it prevents us giving that full variety we should like to present our readers.

Col. M. W. Chuskey.

This gentleman, gallant as a soldier, gifted as an editor and faithful as a member of Congress, is in the city, at Willard's. He is still suffering from a severe wound received during the war. We understand that Col. Chuskey intends becoming connected with the New Orleans press.

Third-Ward Democratic Club.

The Third-ward Democratic club will hold a regular meeting this evening, at 8 o'clock, at Miller's Aurora Hall, on Green street, between Clay and Shelby streets.

By order of the President.

I. N. LOND, Secretary.

The case was continued until Thursday morning, and the bail of Cotter fixed in $1,000.

REAL ESTATE BULLETIN.—The May number of this journal is just published, and we are indebted to Messrs. Morris, Southwick & Co. for a specimen number, which is creditable alike to the energy of its publishers and to the liberality of the city which sustains and encourages an enterprise so laudable in all of its aims. The Bulletin is large, beautifully printed and filled with reading at once entertaining and profitable, and the wider its circulation, the better it will be for the interests of Louisville.

About $1,000 of the stolen money was recovered by the officers who made the arrest.

CRIMINAL COURT SECOND DAY.—Court, pursuant to adjournment, met yesterday morning, his Honor Geo. W. Johnston on the bench. S. K. Richardson and Coleman Daniel were sworn grand jurors, vice W. Musselman and John B. Davies, excused. The case against the River Road Company, for not keeping their road in proper repair, was reassigned for the 15th. Allen Ross, Jno. Ross and W. Sparks, disturbing religious worship in the county, had a trial and were found not guilty. The case of W. P. Hulm, for erecting a fence across a country road, had not been concluded when court adjourned.

INDICTMENTS.—The grand jury of the Circuit Court, which was in session yesterday, returned the following indictments: Alice Mitchell, larceny; D. C. Otis and Frank Patterson, larceny; Carrie Wilson, larceny; Sallie Eves, larceny; Adam Cunlar, stealing a jack; William Caswell, having burglars' tools in his possession, with intent to use the same; Charles Smith, larceny; Frank Morley and M. J. Lewis, robbery; Lizzie Blackburn, larceny; Mary Clemons, larceny, and Thomas Carrigan, burglary. They ignored the following: David Williams, larceny; James Miller, malicious stabbing; Pat. Welmsey, malicious stabbing; Joseph Roberts, larceny.

THE CONCERT OF THE MALE SOPRANO TO-NIGHT.—In response to an invitation, we dropped into Masonic Temple yesterday afternoon to listen to a few vocal efforts of Jesse Shepard, whose concert is announced for this evening. It was a rare musical treat, but we presume only the merest schtillation compared with the grand edulgence of music in store for those who attend the concert to-night. Mr. Shepard's claim to being the "greatest male soprano living," we believe he is fully qualified to maintain. His voice, clear and musical, rises, seemingly without effort, to the grandest altitudes known to musical compositions, and is destined to make its possessor one of the greatest musical celebrities of Europe or America.

EXPRESS ROBBERY IN INDIANA.—On Monday evening week the agent of the American Express Company, at Ladage, Indiana, named Yonel, absconded, it is supposed, with a large amount of the company's money. He is said to have disappeared in the evening, and the last seen of him he was met by a gentleman of that town, who asked him if a package of $50, which he was looking for, had arrived. Yonel hesitated a moment and gave up the package to its owner and passed on. He was gone some twenty-four hours before any suspicions were aroused, when a hasty examination of the books and safe showed that some $2,200 had been taken, and how much more is not known. It is supposed that the absconding agent has gone to Canada.

MONTHLY DOCKET.—The regular call of the monthly docket was continued in the City Court yesterday, cases being disposed of as follows:

Continued	8
Dismissed	1
Tried and Convicted	8

We give the names of the parties convicted, the offense with which each was charged, and the amount of fine assessed against each: Nancy Allen, keeping a disorderly house, $15; Mollie Thornton, same, $25; Belle Burton, same, $30; Maggie Hurst, same, $25; Julia Dean, same, $50; Sallie Green, same, $50; Ben. and George Bache, assault and battery, 1 cent; Sanford Jackson, same, 1 cent. In the two cases against Samuel Boardman and others, the bonds in each, $100, were forfeited. This closes the first day's docket. The call will be continued to-day.

CITY COURT.—Drunk and disorderly cases were disposed of as follows: W. Maddigan, fined $3 and held in $100 for thirty days; Alex. Colter, same order; James Morrison, fined $3; Wm. Fallon, discharged; L. Vettore, being too drunk to be tried was sent to jail to remain until he became sober; James Mack, fined $5 and held in $100 for thirty days. John Nichols, interfering with an officer; bail in $100 to answer. Ambrose Simmons, stealing bacon from J. Snyder; bail in $200 to answer. James Cotter, running over and killing Lewis Schwing; continued till Thursday and bail fixed in $1,000. G. P. Malhaldor, alias Otes-stealing $3,000 in gold from the Texas Express Company; continued till Thursday. Kate Hunter, stealing a dress from Mrs. Worth; witnesses recognized to go before the grand jury. Chas. Ballon, forgery; continued until to-day.

—Enos Edwards, who mysteriously disappeared from New Albany last week, no doubt committed suicide by drowning himself in the Ohio.

—C. S. S. Todd, the official agent of the Merchants' Union Express in New Albany, is about to retire in behalf of Robert Sloan, who will be a most capable successor.

The Democrat is supplied at Fifteen Cents per week.

MEETING OF THE COUNCIL LAST NIGHT—THE PROCEEDINGS—COUNCIL MEETS AGAIN TO-NIGHT.—The General Council, pursuant to adjournment, met at the City Hall at the usual hour last evening. In the lower board there was a mere quorum, thirteen members being present, while in the upper board a sufficient number of members did not appear to have a meeting.

In the lower board several ordinances were passed authorizing the Mayor to advertise for and contract for the construction of several small sewers.

The committee to whom was referred the subject of allowing M. B. Levy, at the corner of Fourth and Market, to let his shed across the pavement remain, reported in favor of the same. There was considerable debate on the report, after which the report of the committee, with all amendments and substitutes, was laid on the table.

Mr. Dierson offered a resolution to so amend the rules of the Council that to suspend the rules it shall require a vote of two-thirds of all the members elect. It lays over one week.

A resolution was passed authorizing the Mayor to advertise for bids for the delivery to the city buildings of 50,000 bushels of Pittsburg coal.

Mr. Larue, from the Eleventh ward, offered a preamble and resolution. The preamble sets forth that, as the members of the Council under the king's language, that the clerk be authorized to purchase a grammar and dictionary and lay it upon the desk of each member. It was referred to the committee on contracts.

The Council adjourned to meet again to-night.

LA GRANGE.—Few of our readers need be told how fortunate they are in having the opportunity, which is to be afforded them to-morrow and Friday nights at Weisiger Hall, of hearing the great prima donna, Mme. Anna De La Grange. This great artiste is equaled by few and surpassed by none as an operatic singer. Her reputation is world-wide. Her magnificent voice, rendered by nature superior to any other in the country, accompanied by her charming personal appearance, has compelled the admiration of the public everywhere; and she may be said to have conquered the entire operatic world. The public of Louisville will not fail to avail itself of the opportunity to hear this renowned songstress. Accompanying Mme. La Grange is Sig. Brignoli, whose silvery voice is so well known to be the first tenore in America, that it does not need our praises. Sarti, the great basso, and Mlle. Stella Bonheur, prima contralto, are other vocal members of the troupe; and the list is completed when we have mentioned Sig. Cleone, the clarionet solo player. The talent which this company contains for opera or operatic concert is, we may safely say, unsurpassed. Parepa is the only prima donna who can pretend to rivalry with La Grange. Brignoli is without a rival, and holds the undisputed right to be considered the first tenore in the country. Sarti's name is no less famous in his legitimate sphere, while Mlle. Bonheur and Cleone will everywhere call forth hosts of enthusiastic admirers. We need not exhort our citizens to avail themselves of the opportunity now presented to them. They will be sure to do so. Such music as they will then be permitted to hear is, as has been well said, "something more than human, which must be called divine." Reserved seats for Thursday and Friday evenings may still be obtained at D. P. Faulds'.

THE STREET-RAILROAD ACCIDENT—CORONER'S INQUEST.—We mentioned yesterday the killing of Louis Schwing, on Monday night, by a Market-street car, at the intersection of Market and Eighth streets. Yesterday the driver, James Cotter, was held to bail, by Judge Craig, in $1,000. The testimony before the Coroner's jury was as follows:

John Ferguson, sworn—Was sitting at the door of the Bond and ladder house. Saw the car coming down very fast, at the rate of about ten miles an hour. Was watching the car. Heard the car hinge, and heard some-body that a man was run over. Went there and got out the man. Found him lying on the track, and one of the hind wheels resting on his right thigh. The car was running at an unusual gait, and I considered it dangerous. The car was about five feet westward from the east crossing on Eighth street. It is usual for cars to pass the street crossing on a walk, but think that this car was going so fast it was impossible to cross it on a walk.

Mr. Slater, sworn—I did not see the man coming and do not know how fast the car went; my attention was drawn first by a cry that a man was run over; did not see the man until he was forewheel of the car went over the man; did not see the deceased before the accident.

The Great Question in England.

The proceedings of Parliament on the night of the 4th were of great interest. As will have been observed in our dispatches of yesterday, there was a great deal of excitement, and points were intensively made by the contending parties. And although definite action was postponed till to-morrow, the character of debate shows that Disraeli and the Government will be compelled to give way. Gladstone and his party plainly see that they have the advantage, and as plainly show that they are determined to hold on to it and to push it.

The indications afforded by the last debate are that, as we inferred in our cursory remarks of Sunday, "an appeal to the people" will be taken upon the Church question before the matter will be permitted to be closed. Disraeli seems determined to hold his place; whether from selfish or patriotic motives, it is not for us to examine. Gladstone, and Lowe and Bright seem determined to get him to resign and to have formed a new Cabinet: But the attentive reader will have observed they have refrained from putting that vote of "want of confidence," which, according to the precedents establishing the unwritten Constitution of England, would force resignation. It will have been noticed that Disraeli was asked why no motion for such a vote was made, and that silence was the only reply. Mr. Disraeli stated that the queen had declined his offered resignation, and had urged him not to dissolve Parliament until an appeal could be made to the new constituencies; and he hoped that a suspension of "the orders of the day" would not be pressed. To this Mr. Gladstone merely responded, that "it might be right to elect a new Parliament, but its first duty when chosen would be to settle the ministry itself"; from which remark it is inferable that he declines pressing the immediate resignation of the ministry. Mr. Gladstone strengthens that impression by going on to say "that it was clearly the duty of the Liberals to follow up the resolves with a bill suspending the appointments in the Irish Church, thus clearing the way of the new Parliament;" and "if the ministers would allow" he would urge "a suspension of the orders of the day in order to afford the earliest possible day for the consideration of the resolves of the Tory party." Thus the matter stands, with the indications furnished for our own judgment as to future probabilities.

One or two episodes of the discussion are worthy of being taken into consideration in our estimate of the position of affairs at the present moment.

Mr. Disraeli's effort to brace the Tory administration by referring to its triumphs in maintaining British peace with Europe and "the great republic," and its triumph of arms in Abyssinia, was of no more effect upon the opposition than his absurd scarecrow of "the ultimate overthrow of the English Church, and the absorption of all sects in the Church of Rome" as a consequence of the proposed measure. If he had chosen to have glanced his eye over to "the great republic," it would have been plain that a separation of Church and State has not involved an absorption of sects by the Catholic Church. The appeal was but too superficial for a statesman to have made; and Mr. Gladstone and his party very justly "laughed at it."

Mr. Lowe and Mr. Bright both denounced the pretensions of the ministry to remain in office, after the extraordinary majority of sixty-five had pronounced against them, as "unconstitutional," and Mr. Bright declared that the ministry very well knew that no reform bill could pass the House which was not acceptable to the Scotch and Irish Liberals; and proclaimed, "reform the Irish Church and Ireland will be at peace"!

Future proceedings will invite intense interest.

☞ The only notable feature in the proceedings of the House of Representatives on Monday was the review of the Washburne and Donnelly mutual photograph exhibition of Saturday. On motion of Mr. Winston "a committee of investigation" was decided upon, with a view to dismiss one or both from their seats in the House. The committee will probably never be appointed, or, if it should be, will never report, at least anything worth calling a report. It was generally agreed upon that the mutual expressions of Donnelly and Washburne should be expunged from the records and excluded from the archives of the nation as recorded in the Congressional Globe; and Mr. Donnelly proposed that "the House imitate the illustrious example of the Secretary of War and General Thomas and all take a drink"! And thus by "taking a drink" it is expected to efface all recollections of the disgraces such fellows have brought upon the nation, while by "taking a drink" it is proposed to the country to expect nothing better in the future. From the moment the Republican party got into power, its members have been drunk; they are drunk still, and will remain drunk. It is the most charitable construction that can be placed upon their acts; and it is now invoked that the House of Representatives "all take a drink" as a blanket of oblivion under which to hide their multitude of sins from the world! Ah, members! that blanket has had too many holes worn through it!

☞ The Journal, with instinctive nobility and humanity, asks, "why will he (the President) not, on (or before?) leaving his high office, bequeathe the blessing of general amnesty to a large and bitterly-wronged class of his countrymen?"

We suspect that there are several reasons why the President does not do the noble deed suggested by the Journal. The first that strikes us is, that the President does not as confidently expect to be "turned out," as the Journal expects it. And we see reasons for the President's faith, which we have hinted at before and may repeat. But for the present these suggestions occur to us as controlling reasons for non-action in the direction indicated. The President, if he has considered the matter at all, as probably he has, is satisfied that the act would be the occasion for a new bowl, and thus render his hold upon his high office still more insecure. And he no doubt also has considered that Congress, in its present temper and especially after his deposition, would reverse the action it took upon the "proclamations" of A. Lincoln. It legalized those of the latter and declared them binding as fundamental law. Should Mr. Johnson issue a proclamation of the character suggested, there can be no doubt about it but that Congress would decree it to be a fresh "usurpation" and annul it. We join the Journal in wishing the act could be done; but think that we see the foregoing difficulties in the way of its efficacy at this time.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

FALLACIES OF THE FACULTY.

The stomach is the ruling organ of the system. If the digestion is imperfect, every member, every gland, every muscle, every nerve and fiber is more or less out of order. All the fluids are depraved. The brain is clouded. The spirits are depressed. All dyspeptics know this to be the truth. It is not however half the truth. Columns would be required to enumerate the pains and penalties of dyspepsy, nor could any pen do them justice. Tens of thousands feel them; no man can describe them.

Can they be prevented? Can they be relieved? Can they be banished at once and forever? UNQUESTIONABLY THEY CAN. No dyspeptic has ever taken HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS in vain. Believe no one who says the complaint is incurable. This great vegetable stomachic will eradicate it—it is eradicating it in thousands of cases over which medical practitioners have shaken their heads ominously, saying, "Nothing can be done."

The faculty has its fallacies. One of them is that indigestion is the most difficult of all the ordinary ailments of mankind to combat and subdue. This is a mistake. Nothing can be easier than to conquer it if the true specific be administered. This vegetable combination which has become famous throughout the civilized world as HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is an antidote to the disease which has never been known to fail, and fortunately it is everywhere procurable. If you wish to feed with the dyspepsy, try the pharmaceutic pestilences. If you want to rout it out and prevent its recurrence, take the Bitters daily. There is no discount on the testimony in its favor. If there is a man or woman who has ever tried it for indigestion without being benefited, the fact has not transpired. Universal, uncontradicted praise avouches its wonderful tonic virtues.

We have no new features to report in local financial affairs. There is no pressing demand for loans either at the banks or on the outside market, and the rates of interest have undergone no change. Commercial affairs are financially unembarrassed and first-class borrowers are realizing fully half way by those who have funds to lend.

Exchange is steady, though in less active demand, and ¼ premium was the outside selling rate to-day, and from ⅝ to 1-16 premium was the current buying rates. The New York money market is reported as steadily growing in ease, with increasing receipts of currency from the country and a more settled feeling in financial circles.

The New York gold market opened to-day at 138¾, and closed at 139. M. at 139¾. "There is," says the New York Bulletin, of the 5th, "a very general idea that, in a commercial point of view, gold is 35 per cent too high, and this opinion receives confirmation from the fact that there is less gold likely to be shipped against coupons from abroad than was expected. The coupons paid, a large amount of orders have been received from the interior by foreign bankers. But so long as the present uncertainty as to the result of impeachment continues, there is little disposition to sell gold short in the expectation that the market to-morrow will be easier. The Treasury has paid out to-day about five million of gold on account of coupons."

"The conviction," says the Finance Chronicle, of the 24 inst., appears to be very general that, considering the commercial situation, gold should rule at much lower prices. The present indications favor the supposition that the decline in specie in May will be much less than was expected. It is generally expected that, in the event of the conviction of the President, there will be a certain amount of extra national favorability to a temporary advance in the premium, and, in view of this, few venture to sell short. The total amount of coin interest due to-day is close upon $27,000,000, of which about $23,000,000 is payable at the sub-treasury.

There was a moderate demand to-day in New York for Government bonds, and prices were reported a shade firmer. The 2-25 dis patch quoted coupons of '81 at 113; '62, [illegible]; '64, 106; new issue, 108; '65, do 1867, [illegible]; 10-40s, 98; 7-30s, second and third series, 107.

The New York Bulletin, of the 5th, says:

"There has been a steady accumulation in the [illegible] dealers by parties anticipating an active [illegible] commencing with the payment of the May coupons, and this morning these parties were free sellers."

The Financial Chronicle says:

"The [illegible] of the governments are much above what has ever been experienced at this season of the year, and are somewhat remarkable considering that, until within a few days past, money has been quite stringent. The investments of a number of savings institutions, apparently without any important sales of bonds, may have contributed to this extraordinary firmness to a certain extent; but, in our opinion, the principal cause is probably to be found in the [illegible] of investors to use their means in railroad shares."

Daily Review of the Market.

In the general markets to-day there was nothing transpiring of special interest to all leading commodities steadiness is the distinguishing feature. The demand is by no means active in any department, and the currents of business move sluggishly for the season.

In the provision market we have no change to note, except in lard, which is firm at 19 a 19½c in tierces and 20½ a 20¾c in kegs. Stocks of country hog-lards are light and are held here for 20c, and an active market may be expected when that altitude is reached.

In regard to the future of the market, Messrs. Lyon & Peterson, in their circular of Saturday last, say:

"The trade of the week has been extraordinary, having been active, buoyant and speculative to an extent almost unprecedented; and the general impression that the provisions prevailing here have been left in all the leading markets, though, as in all movements originating from the center and extending to the circumference, the rippling has been stronger at its origin than in its wider extension. This, in the case of provisions, originates from the fact that at the sources, the points of production, supplies are more appreciably estimated than in points and centers running markets, and hence packers and their agents are warranted in claims which seem exorbitant to those who have no opportunity of seeing for themselves the stocks are being reduced, or how steady and extending is the demand. Looking at the exports from New York alone, we find that there were exported from 1st of January to 24th of April:

	1868.	1867.
Pork, bbls	36,710	30,954
Beef, do	19,697	10,501
Lard, do	4,250	1,764
Lard, in 3d nos	3,514	2,626

and as more than the usual proportion went to Great Britain, it was natural to infer that prices there would decline in view of continued shipments; but the reverse has been the case [illegible], even up to yesterday, continued to advance in the principal English ports, and as the re have almost continually been [illegible] orders at New York, Chicago and Liverpool requiring prompt execution, it would have been strange if the [illegible] tion with the very large demand from American consumers, had not have started prices upward had the revulsion, particularly as it was known that stocks were held much smaller than usual at this period, but that they were concentrated into fewer hands and more strongly held than during any previous season. At New York they are reported to be some 8,000 barrels pork, against 30,000 last year. We have no data or starting quantities at other points, but it is known not to be large at some, to be smaller than usual at New Orleans, Louisville and Cincinnati, and to be scarcely worth mentioning at Chicago, but some two parties are accredited with holding half three-quarters of a million of the cut meats there. Here, two of the largest operators are dependent upon purchases to [illegible] a supply, whilst only one, apparently, of the others has more than the average of the past season, and this morning these parties were free sellers."

The Financial Chronicle says:

"The [illegible] of the governments are much above what has ever been experienced at this season of the year, and are somewhat remarkable considering that, until within a few days past, money has been quite stringent. The investments of a number of savings institutions, apparently without any important sales of bonds, may have contributed to this extraordinary firmness to a certain extent; but, in our opinion, the principal cause is probably to be found in the [illegible] of investors to use their means in railroad shares."
